

Margot Kaessmann at the head of the German Church

Contributed by Administrator
Sunday, 08 November 2009
Last Updated Sunday, 22 November 2009

German Protestants for the first time the lead is a woman. Ecclesiastical parliament elected on Tuesday in Ulm (Baden-Württemberg) Hanover Ms Bishop Margot Kaessmann President of the Council of the Evangelical Church in Germany.

51-year-old Kaessmann, divorced mother of four children, covers the dignity of the 67-year Huberze Berlin Bishop Wolfgang, who is retiring. Kaessmann declares its willingness to acquire more people to faith through the Church going with the times. Evangelical Church in Germany is a national community of 22 Lutheran churches, Reformed and united, bringing together more than 25 million faithful.